DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is in response to applicant's amendment received on 03/13/07.

Claim Objections

2. Claim 7 is objected to because of the following informalities: line 5, "a conveyor system chain" should be change to 'the conveyor system'; and line 7, "a pair of teeth.." should be change to 'the pair of teeth.'. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 7, 8, 11-13 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Newnes et al. (6,705,190).

Newnes et al. discloses the invention including:

- Claim 7; a plurality of pair of saw blades 114, a conveyor system with chains 126b, a plurality of pair of teeth 11 and 126.

Art Unit: 3724

- Claim 8; a separate conveyor having a chain for each of the pair of saw blades (see Fig. 3).
- Claim 11; radial blades 114.
- Claim 13; saw blades increase in succession (see Fig. 2 and 3).
- Claim 14; Newnes et al. is capable of cutting an endocarp of coconut.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claim 12 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Newnes et al. (6,705,190) in view of Joa (2,842,169).

Newnes et al. discloses the invention substantially as claimed except for a belt. However, Joa teaches the use of a belt 20 for the purpose of securely holding the workpiece during cutting. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the device of Newnes et al. by providing the belt as taught by Joa in order to obtain a device that securely holds the workpiece during cutting.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 9-10 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

9. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
